

Heather's experience in leadership coaching, organizational effectiveness, and training and development, along with her education in Human and Organizational Development (B.S.) and Human Resource Development (M.Ed.) from Vanderbilt University, have readied her for leading God's people to Christ-led, authentic, intentional spiritual growth.

Heather and her husband John are both originally from Morgantown, West Virginia (Go Mountaineers!) and have lived in Frederick since 1995. Together they strive to reflect God's incredible faithfulness as demonstrated again and again in His Word.
